Dear Dr. Newell,

I have been asked to write a recommendation letter for the University Bible Fellowship, a missionary organization applying for membership in Cross Global Link. It is a pleasure to respond to their request.

My knowledge of UBF is not extensive, but I have known some of their leaders, and have talked with a number of their missionaries at some conferences where I have spoken. My impressions have always been positive. What stands out to one is their sense of mission and commitment to the Great Commission. They take seriously Christ's command to "make disciples of all nations." Whatever I may think about their disciplined way of going about it, no one can fault the sincerity of their motive or the obedience of their lifestyle.

As you can see, my assessment of the movement is one of gratitude. May God help us all to learn from each other and to follow more faithfully in the steps of Jesus.

Yours sincerely,

Dr. Robert Coleman
